TELECONSULTATION

Our team of Doctor volunteers started counselling patients in partnership with StepOne and started consulting people across the country. These consultations helped in calming the patients down and providing medical help on time.

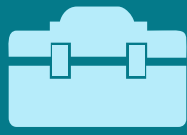

COVID WAR ROOM

In association with the Government of Karnataka, YFS and Doctors for Seva (DFS) volunteers took charge of the teleconsultation for COVID patients in Mysuru. There was a massive influx of calls and the patients required support immediately. In this situation of urgency, our volunteers brought relief to the people on the other side of the call.

HOME CARE KITS

During this time of difficulty, we took up the mission to assist people from marginalized communities of our country with COVID-specific homecare kits. These kits came as a blessing as it enabled isolating and treating mild symptoms at home, and contained all the necessary medicines, thermometer and pulse oximeter.

I joined YFS as a volunteer two years ago. During COVID we were involved in several activities and I personally felt the most connected to Home Care kits. I got the opportunity to help people and know that they were recovering. I was making follow-up calls as well. I thank Youth For Seva for giving me a chance to be a part of this meaningful project.

Doctors for seva
serving with compassion

Our volunteers at DFS, were the backbone for all our activities. From teleconsultation to multiple awareness sessions they took charge and provided medical assistance throughout the pandemic. They were instrumental in conducting Blood donation camps, spreading awareness for vaccinations and guiding patients on safety measures.

Our doctors have worked passionately to help citizens through teleconsultations and spent the majority of their day consulting hundreds of patients per day free of cost. Through webinars they were able to reach more than 150 people per session and conducted virtual health camps.

Volunteering is my passion, Giving is always a joy. 'Tan', 'Mann', and 'Dhan'. I truly feel it is my duty as a doctor to show the exit path of the Pandemic (and) take my nation out of it as safely and as early as possible. I am very grateful to YFS /DFS for volunteering opportunities and the freedom given to us, our ideas are always welcomed.

OXYGEN CONCENTRATORS

The hospitals in rural areas had a shortage of oxygen concentrators. With the help of partner organizations, we were able to set up 175 oxygen concentrators in government & trust-run hospitals across Karnataka. These hospitals had general as well as oxygen beds for patients.

ISOLATION CENTRES

As isolation at home was challenging for rural households with limited availability of resources and absence of caretakers. We supported isolation centres that can take care of 60 - 80 patients, with a few oxygen beds and have an Ambulance facility. Patients were given healthy meals and were treated warmly by the staff members. Activities such as Yoga and Bhajans were conducted to heal them spiritually. Our medical professionals were on duty 24 hrs and we also had visiting consultants.

GROCERY KITS DISTRIBUTION

A major impact of the COVID disruption was on low income families and migrant labourers. With the lockdown their daily income was stifled and in this heart wrenching situation, our volunteers identified the areas where these daily earners and underprivileged people were stranded and distributed grocery kits and cooked meals to them.

Towards Future

AALAMBAN

The pandemic not only disrupted the present but also damaged the prospect of the future for many. Some families suffered unexplainable loss: The loss of their loved ones. With extreme grief and a financial barrier towards a safe future. Through Project Aalamban we seek to help families in distress and give them hope of a new beginning. We will be extending Emotional, Spiritual, and Financial help for their overall recovery through trained grief counsellors, Satsang and scholarships for education of the children.

Volunteer Spotlight

SANDEEP

Sandeep is our volunteer who comes from Rani Pokhari in Dehradun. During the Pandemic he witnessed the widespread suffering caused due to the lack of adequate resources. He was engaged in distributing Home Care kits and tried identifying families in the outskirts who might not have the access to essential medicines. He actively took part in awareness programs and mask distribution to keep his community safe. He feels content when he can help someone. He says that in difficult times people generally tend to withdraw but it is very important to find a solution and help people who cannot protect themselves.

Vaccination Drives

Vaccination is the key to ensure that we are prepared to take on challenges of the future. We have been supporting vaccination drives during the second wave and will actively pursue multiple partnerships to conduct large scale drives across the country.

Aalamban

We need to look at social rehabilitation to avoid generational impact due to COVID . This is the vision that gave birth to Project Aalamban. As the PM CARES fund will support the education for children who have lost both their parents, we wish to support the children who have lost one of their parents and lost the bread winner.

You can help us by:

- ❖ Referring a child in need of financial support
- ❖ Becoming a sponsor
- ❖ Donating as much as you can
- ❖ Helping us in need-basis analysis
- ❖ Spreading the word about Project Aalamban

It is crucial for all of us to help our fellow humans however we can during their time of distress. There is no greater deed than helping someone during their time of need.
